The Attack Phase lasts between two to seven days, depending on how much weight you wish to lose. This phase is characterized by a strict regimen of pure protein foods, which are low in calories and high in satiety.

During the Attack Phase, your body enters a state of ketosis, where it burns fat for energy instead of carbohydrates. This rapid weight loss is often motivating for participants, as many report losing several pounds within the first week. However, it's important to adhere strictly to the guidelines set forth in this phase to avoid any setbacks.

The Principles of the Attack Phase
