- Duration: Aim for at least 20-30 minutes of practice most days of the week.
- Consistency: Try to practice at the same time each day to create a habit.

Break Pieces into Sections

When learning a new piece, breaking it down can prevent frustration and make it more manageable. Here's how:

1. Divide the Piece: Split the music into small sections (e.g., 2-4 measures).
2. Focus on One Hand: Practice the right hand and left hand separately before combining them.
3. Slow it Down: Start at a slower tempo to ensure accuracy, gradually increasing speed as you gain confidence.

Incorporate Technique Practice

In addition to learning songs, working on technique is crucial for long-term development. Consider:

- Scales: Practice major and minor scales to improve finger dexterity.
- Chords: Familiarize yourself with basic chords and their inversions.
- Exercises: Use finger exercises to strengthen your hand coordination.
