- Situational Judgment: This part assesses candidates' decision-making skills in scenarios relevant to foreign service work, focusing on diplomacy, ethics, and interpersonal relations.

2. Oral Assessment

Once candidates pass the written exam, they are invited to an oral assessment. This involves various exercises, including:

- Structured Interview: Candidates are questioned about their motivations for joining the Foreign Service, their understanding of the role, and their personal experiences that shape their worldview.

- Group Exercises: Candidates work with others to simulate real-world diplomatic scenarios, showcasing their teamwork, leadership, and negotiation skills.
