Understanding Blood Moons

Blood moons are a captivating astronomical phenomenon that occurs during a total lunar eclipse when the Earth passes between the sun and the moon. As the Earth blocks sunlight from reaching the moon, the only light that does reach it has to pass through the Earth's atmosphere. This light is refracted and scattered, creating a reddish hue on the moon's surface, hence the term "blood moon."

The Tetrad of 2014-2015

The tetrad referenced by Hagee consists of four blood moons that occurred on the following dates:

- April 15, 2014
- October 8, 2014

- April 4, 2015
- September 27, 2015

Each of these dates not only marked a significant lunar event but also coincided with important Jewish holidays, specifically Passover and Sukkot, further enhancing their perceived significance among believers.

John Hagee's Teachings

Pastor John Hagee is a prominent figure in the Christian Zionist movement and has written extensively about the implications of the four blood moons. His book, "Four Blood Moons: Something Is About to Change," outlines his interpretations of the events and their potential prophetic meanings.
